Ferneyhough, of Stafford county, were out hunting yesterday. Scott was standing on a ridge looking for Ferneyhough to get through a fence and in doing so the gun caught on the fence rail and was accidentally discharged, a large portion of the load entering Scott's neck and head, and he is very seriously injured. Dr. W. A. Gordon was summoned, and he is treating him.

Hickerson, of King George county, while driving a young horse from the pasture, was severely injured by being kicked on the chin, the blow breaking the jawbone in two places and sending it completely around. He was taken to Dr. J. Garnett King, who, assisted by Dr. C. Mason Smith, reset the young man's jaw, and he will probably recover.

Miss Sadie Minor, of this city, while skating at the rink here, lost her balance and fell backwards. She attempted to catch herself on the left arm, but the force of the fall broke her arm above the wrist.

Sinclair against Fairfax & Company, of this city, and Judge J. B. Thornton, the case being in progress since Wednesday last, and was given to the jury late yesterday afternoon.

The suit involved about $4,000, the purchase price of eighty barrels of whiskey shipped by Sinclair to Fairfax & Company. The defendant claims that the goods did not come up to representation, it is alleged, and refused the liquor, hence the suit.

The complaint was represented by Attorneys J. A. C. Keith, of Warrenton, and Marshall McCormick, of Greenville. Attorneys S. G. Brent represented the defendant. The case will again be heard at the January term of the Circuit Court.

Woman Who Shot Husband Still Confined in Jail at Petersburg.

NEW CHURCH IS PROJECTED

Convict Pardoned by Governor. Important Project Under Discussion.

Times-Dispatch Bureau, 163 North Sycamore Street, Petersburg, Va., November 10.

Mrs. Ilma Gwaltney, who on Sunday, October 15, shot and instantly killed her husband at Kenbridge, in Lunenburg county, and was sent to the Petersburg jail for lack of proper accommodation in the Lunenburg jail, is still here awaiting the action of the county authorities. She is a very quiet prisoner, has little to say and spends her time alone in her cell.

Mr. and Mrs. Gwaltney were both former residents of Petersburg, but had separated. Mr. Gwaltney was living at Kenbridge, where he was employed, at the time of the killing, and his wife went up to see him the day before. Several years ago she was charged with poisoning her infant child, and was committed to a State hospital, from which she was subsequently released as recovered. It is thought probable she may again be examined for insanity.

MANY WOMEN RUN DOWN

Mrs. Ewton Tells Her Story, And Hopes Other Sufferers Will Do As Well.

Pine Bluff, Ark.—For nearly nine years, says Mrs. M. E. Ewton, of this city, "I had been almost down with womanly troubles, and at times, I could scarcely be about at all to do anything."

I took different kinds of medicines without any benefit. I had a pain in my side that it seemed impossible to relieve.

I used six bottles of Cardui, and now I feel like a different person. I am getting along fine. I can do any kind of work!

Cardui was the only thing that helped me. It is the best remedy I know for run down women. I hope other sufferers will take Cardui and be benefited as I have.

Do you suffer from some of the disagreeable symptoms of womanly trouble? Let Cardui help you back to health and strength, as it did Mrs. Ewton.

Cardui has a record of over 50 years' successful use to recommend it. Composed of strictly vegetable ingredients, imported especially from Europe for use in this remedy, Cardui does good that stays good, without any ill effects.

As a remedy for women's ills, those who have tried Cardui say it has no equal.

Have you tried it? It may be just what you need. Ask your druggist.

Enlargement of Warehouse. The Chamber of Commerce has been officially informed by the Seaboard Air Line Railway of its approval of the proposition to enlarge the company's freight warehouse at the Market Street Station. The contract for the work is to be given out without delay.

It is proposed to add an extension of about 100 by 50 feet to the warehouse, which will give about 5,000 feet to the warehouse and much greater facilities for shipping and receiving freight than are now enjoyed. The company's action is highly pleasing to Petersburg merchants.

The Tuberculosis Sanatorium at Birdville, in this city, has ten patients at present. The sanatorium is thoroughly complete and equipped institution, and a thoroughly charitable one, everything being free to the patients. It is supported mainly by voluntary contributions, aided by the city.

An Important Project. The proposition of the construction of a steel and concrete viaduct from Bollingbrook Street down Second Street, over the tracks of the Norfolk and Western Railway and across the Appomattox to the pike on the Chesterfield side is being seriously discussed by influential capitalists and business men of the city, and while the matter has taken no definite shape as yet, it is expected to do so soon. It is a matter in which the city itself is interested, as is also the Norfolk and Western Railway and probably the Virginia Passenger and Power Company.

The structure would be a long and costly one, but permanent, and in the end economical. Real estate men and property owners on both sides of the city favor the project. The city is now contemplating the construction of a steel-concrete bridge over the river to take the place of the wooden structure known as the Bishop Bridge.

Year's Work Ended. The Methodist ministers of this city and district will complete their year's work next Sunday, and on Friday will leave for Salisbury, Md., to attend the Virginia Conference. AYCOCK WILL NOT RETIRE FROM RACE

Former Governor Declares He Expects to Be Next Senator From North Carolina.

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Raleigh, N. C., November 10.—Ex-Governor Charles B. Aycock, who has recuperated wonderfully from his recent case of diphtheria, and seems in better health than for a long while, said today that he is sick and tired of the reports that seem to be persistently circulated through the State that he will withdraw from the race for any reason. "You may say," said he, "that there is no foundation for these reports, and that I will be in the contest to the end, and that I confidently expect to be a winner."

A close friend of the ex-Governor, in fact, a member of the campaign management, supplemented the statement of Governor Aycock with the declaration that as soon as the other candidates for the Senate begin to speak today at the State Capitol, he will press their real feelings for each other on the stump, which will be within the next few months, the Democratic Party will have the safe way, and that trusted leader of the party (Governor Aycock) for such a long time, who has thousands of friends, and is the second choice of everybody in North Carolina, will be urged at the polls to serve the party and the State.

Governor Kitchin, who has been in the Eastern part of the State for several days, will leave for Raleigh Saturday at Bolton, in Columbus county, and will spend Saturday night and Sunday morning in Wilmington. He is expected to arrive in Raleigh on Monday with a big Farmers' Union educational rally.

KILLS MAN, THEN TAKES TO WOODS

[Special to The Times-Dispatch.] Roanoke, Va., November 10.—John Mountcastle was shot and instantly killed last night at Jamison's Mill, in Franklin county, by Abe Bryant, who made his escape, taking refuge in a dense forest. The two men were standing near a store, talking, apparently in a pleasant conversation. When Mountcastle started to walk away, Bryant pulled a revolver and fired twice, killing his man instantly. He turned to the bystanders and asked that some one take his horse to his wife. With pistol in hand, he took to the woods. The only known cause for the shooting is that Bryant was accused of driving a wagon or a blockade distillery and that he suspected Mountcastle of having informed the officers.

This is thirty-three lives that have been lost from drowning in Dan River since the year 1882.
